Destiny would have it that when two people meet, especially when they are of disparate personalities and cultures as Lore and Franckline, the main characters created by Pamela Erens for her third novel, Eleven Hours, they have something to learn from each other. Perhaps there's a need, a bit of karma they have to work out between themselves.

Eleven Hours by Pamela Erens - Goodreads

"Eleven Hours" bears witness to the extraordinary efforts of mothers in bringing forth a child. It is a testament to the dedication and compassion of labor and delivery nurses. And for men it provides an opportunity to fully grasp the all-encompassing nature of the experience. But her book is not a documentary, it is a story.

With Eleven Hours, Paullina Simons has created a new kind of thriller, psychological drama at its best and a suspense-filled journey straight into the heart of darkness. "Continuing to hone her style, Simons follows the logorrheic Tully and the pensive Red Leaves with a sparely written, blatantly shocking page-turner.
